Shut out the din in your air cabin or make clear voice calls on your iPhone with the Creative HN-900 noise-canceling headphones. The concealed microphones in the earcups pick up surrounding noises and these are electronically negated, effectively reducing the noise by up to 85%. With the absence of unwanted sound, the finely tuned 40mm Neodymium drivers allow details of your music or entertainment to be revealed. The Creative HN-900's audio cable comes with an in-line microphone for voice communications on your iPhone. This cable can be detached and the noise-canceling feature turned on - great for times when all you want is peace and quiet. If the headphones run out of battery power, you can still use them in the passive mode without noise cancellation. The Creative HN-900 is a solid performer, ensuring a peaceful backdrop for your entertainment and communication needs.
